Radnor Lake Aviary Tour & Optional Hike

Saturday, April 29

7 AM Hike - 9 AM Aviary Tour

Join the NCS Saturday morning, April 29th, for a 9 AM, 90-minute private Nashville Ski Club tour of the Barbara J Mapp Aviary, and optional pre-tour and post-tour hikes. We will learn about the seven non-releasable birds-of-prey in residence and can see them up close and personal.

The outdoor aviary is located within Radnor Lake State Park at the top of Hall Drive, off the Otter Creek Road paved footpath. The .4 mile hike up Hall Drive is also paved but steep and is accessible only by foot. From East Parking Area the aviary is a  $\frac{3}{4}$  mile walk. From West Parking Area it is a 1.4-mile walk. See Radnor aviary online for a map and more information.

For those going on their own, be sure to allow ample time for parking and walking.

For those wishing for an invigorating group hike, meet at West Parking lot in front of bike racks at 7:00 AM. We will hike Ganier Ridge Trail for a 3.35 mile hike to the aviary. After the tour we can return to the West Parking by road, 1.4 miles, or hike the South Cove Ridge trail, 2.5 miles. These are considered moderately challenging routes and we will take it at an easy pace. If you can ski, you can do this!

There is no cost to attend. Members, please register on the ski club website. You may bring a maximum of two (2) non-members. Contact bessgormley@gmail.com with any questions. We need a minimum of 10 and a maximum of 25 to have our private tour. Hope you can join us.

Mammoth Trip Report

By Joe Moreau

The Nashville Ski Club returned to Mammoth Mountain for the first time since 2018, and it was as good as we remembered! We had 25 members (eventually) gather to take advantage of the over 500 inches of snow this season, which is the most snowfall for any resort in the world.

Most of us had never seen that much snow piled anywhere, and were constantly taken aback when we saw new comparisons of how much they had. Things like snow piled up to the second floor balconies (sorry first floor people!) with windows covered by plywood to protect them from the snow. Also, snow was regularly piled more than 10 feet higher than the trucks/SUVs parked on the street!

Thankfully the main group did not have any travel issues getting out there and we were able to take advantage of the welcome breakfast on Sunday. Guest service director, Anna Allen, answered questions for our group and the Knoxville Ski Club who was there at the same time. As an aside, Anna Allen is the subject of a new documentary called "Buried", about her survival of the 1982 Alpine Meadows Avalanche where she survived for five days under tons of snow.

We had three groups take the three hour tour of the mountain where the mountain hosts relayed history of the mountain and showed us their favorite runs and how to get around the 3500 acres and 175 trails.

Sunday night into Monday we received a nice 4-8 inches of snow to give us all a little "pow pow" for our efforts, and with the low number of skiers during the week we were finding powder stashes well into Tuesday!

Wednesday night Allison led our merry band of skiers to the group dinner at Morrisons where everyone enjoyed wonderful meals and specialty desserts! And thanks to Anita Fowler for letting us know when the trolley was approaching so we weren't waiting out in the cold for its arrival, or worse, missed it and have to wait another 45 minutes for the next pass!

Friday night we wrapped up the week with the "leftover" party and had some wonderful food and enjoyed each others company while telling stories about the adventures of the week.

Saturday was a mostly uneventful day of travel back to Nashville, with a surprise guest appearance from Kelly Ginn in Dallas coming home from a work trip.

Thanks to all the trip participants who made this a great time for all and look forward to traveling with you all again!

Here's just one of the photos that have been uploaded to our website. You can find more here.
